DEBORAH COLBURN SELECTED FOR DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE JOINT CIVILIAN ORIENTATION CONFERENCE

Deborah Colburn, managing director of Oral Health Awareness Colorado! (OHAC!), has been selected to participate in the Joint Civilian Orientation Conference on November 4-11 to be hosted by the U.S. Pacific Command. The JCOC is a Secretary of Defense outreach program for American leaders to expand their knowledge of the military and national defense. Since 1948, it has provided an in-depth introduction to the military to thousands of business, civic, education and community leaders.

Colburn will attend briefings by senior military and civilian officials, followed by hands-on experience exercises, training and interaction with the troops in Japan, Guam and the Philippines.

Colburn, a former New Hampshire State Representative, has held leadership positions with state government and non-profit and for-profit health and human service organizations for over 15 years.
